Code of Conduct

The CMB-S4 collaboration and project are committed to actively promoting an inclusive environment in which everyone is treated with respect both as professionals and as people. We will not tolerate harassment of participants in any form.

- The full collaboration code of conduct can be found here. (Also on Indico)
- Participation in this meeting implies consent to abide by the code of conduct.
- Anyone who does not abide by this code of conduct will be asked to stop their behavior immediately, or leave the meeting.

If you have any concerns you can contact the collaboration ombudspeople who will discuss issues in strict confidence (currently Renée Hložek and Greg Tucker), or report directly to the spokespeople, governing board chair, or governing board members. See section 10 of the bylaws for full details.

DOE Expectations for Professional Behavior

The Office of Science (SC) Statement of Commitment* affirms that:

- SC is fully and unconditionally committed to fostering safe, diverse, equitable, inclusive, and accessible work, research, and funding environments that value mutual respect and personal integrity.... SC is committed to advancing belonging, accessibility, justice, equity, diversity, and inclusion (BAJEDI) across the portfolio of activities we sponsor.
- SC does not tolerate discrimination or harassment of any kind, including sexual harassment, discrimination, bullying, intimidation, violence, threats of violence, retaliation, or other disruptive behavior.... Allegations of discrimination, harassment, or retaliation should be reported immediately to the appropriate federal staff.
- SC expects the scientific community, particularly those engaging in SC-sponsored activities, to always conduct themselves in a manner that is respectful, ethical, professional, and inclusive. By attending such events, participants agree to conduct themselves according to these expectations. SC reserves the right to take appropriate action at SC-hosted events should participants not adhere to these expectations for responsible workplace behavior.
